DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 309-343, drawn to methods and systems which collect and transmit chemical information to a client computer over a computer network wherein the client computer is configured to receive said information over said network, classified in class 710, subclass 104. If this Group is elected, then the below summarized specie election is also required.
- II. Claim 375, drawn to systems for detecting an analyte in a fluid with communication software to transmit chemical information to a computer system, classified in class 700, subclass 73.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

The inventions of Group I and II are directed to distinct function and/or system components in that Group I collects chemical information and then transmits it over a computer network to a client computer which is configured to receive such information. In contrast the Group II system is directed to chemical information collection and communication to a computer. No network is required in Group II. No client is required in Group II. No client computer is required in Group II nor any client computer configuration requirement. Thus, the subject matter of Group II is a basic computer run analytical system whereas the subject matter of Group I is directed to specific network/client applications of an analytical system and methods therefore. Therefore the search for both Groups together would be an undue search burden as they are directed to systems and/or methods that are generally distinct and separate in chemical information analyses.

SPECIE ELECTION REGARDING GROUP I:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Specie I-A: sensor array detection as set forth in claim 325

Specie I-B: Non-sensor array detection, such as a single detector, for example.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 309-324 and 343 are generic to the above species. The species are distinct due to the distinct usage of arrays as being directed to profiling over a variety of sensor array elements which is not possible with a single detector element and thus presents a different and clearly distinct search burden which is undue if searched together.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
